5th Grade:

Year-End Review: Speaking and Listening Practice: "What ____ do you like?"

Activity Name: Find the Unicorn	Mechanics: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. The whole class will practice speaking the question.2. Students will be given 1 piece of paper each, with a different question.3. There are 12 different questions. Some questions will have 3 copies (3 students will have the same question), some questions will have 2 copies (2 students will have the same questions), and 1 question will have only 1 copy (only 1 student will have this question). This is the "unicorn" or unique question.4. Students to read and practice speaking their question.5. The whole class will also review together and practice answering the questions, with their own answer.6. When the teacher says "Go!", everyone will pair up and take turns. One will ask the question, the other will say their answer. Then exchange roles. Then find a different partner.7. Students write their partners' names in the Question Worksheet.8. The goal of the game is to find the Unicorn – the student with the unique question. (Students can only find this out by asking almost all of their classmates, to eliminate them.)9. The first student to identify and write the Unicorn's name wins.
